Pro Fisherman Scott Suggs Signs Sponsorship with Popticals Sunglasses Company
Fishing League Worldwide Pro Angler Scott Suggs Partners with Popticals Sunglasses Company

St. Louis (May 2016) – New eyewear company Popticals®, maker of patented compact sports sunglasses, has signed a sponsorship agreement with FLW Tour Pro fisherman Scott Suggs.

Scott Suggs has been a full time professional angler since 2004 and currently competes on the FLW Tour circuit and in Major League Selects. With an outstanding career as a professional angler, he is most well-known for making bass fishing history by becoming the sport's first instant millionaire by winning the 2007 Forrest Wood Cup on Lake Ouachita. In 2015 he became the first Major League Select angler to win a Major League Cup.

Popticals was a natural fit for Suggs as he depends on high-quality polarized sunglasses to compete. The unique portability of the sunglasses combined with the nylon lenses manufactured by Carl Zeiss Vision was instantly a must-have piece of fishing gear for Suggs. "You can put it (Popticals) in your pocket, you can put it anywhere you want to. They fold up so nicely. But the polarization is everything I need on the water. I've fished a lot of glasses with polarization over the years, and there's something about the polarization in Popticals... Everything is so clear. It takes every shadow away in the water and I'm able to see everything I'm looking at. I'm not having to tilt my head and make second guesses."

As part of the partnership Suggs will be representing the new sunglasses company in his Popticals wrapped 2016 Ranger Z520C bass fishing boat while competing in the Fishing League Worldwide Tour and other fishing events across the country this year. Suggs will also be making an appearance this July at the 2016 ICAST show in Orlando, FL where he will be signing autographs and talking with fishing enthusiasts at the Popticals booth.

About Popticals:

Popticals were created to solve the basic problem with wrap-around sport sunglasses: they aren't portable. The company invented a solution by creating an innovative, patented design with a rail system that allows the lenses to slide parallel to each other or "spoon" for portable, safe storage on the go. The sunglasses easily expand from their small size to provide sunglasses for those who don't want to sacrifice portability for quality.

Popticals was founded with a spirit for innovation and adventure. The revolutionary design features world-class nylon lenses manufactured by Carl Zeiss Vision. Made in Italy using the best materials and methods, Popticals deliver top-of-the-line sunglasses to outdoor enthusiasts that demand the highest on the quality gear. Popticals ensure fishermen of all levels have high-performance sunglasses when they need them and a protected, compact place to store them when they don't.

The Popticals introductory line will be available at general outdoor and fishing retailers, and can also be found at Popticals.com in 5 frame styles with 25 color and lens combinations.
